

Matjaž Pogacnik, Chief, Network Development, Telekom Slovenije, Slovenia

Matjaž Pogačnik, MBA is Head of Network solutions and service developments office. He is covering strategic network & services planning, strategy and technologies including xDSL, FTTx, Wimax, Carrier Ethernet, xWDM, PDH/SDH, FR and ATM.

Mr. Pogačnik has joined Telekom Slovenije d.d. in 1999, after finishing telecommunications studies at the University of Ljubljana, Slovenia. After working in investment department for one year, he was appointed Head of ADSL project in 2000. In 2001, he wrote a book about ADSL and measurements in ADSL network with colleagues, which was published by Telekom Slovenije. In 2006, he was appointed Head of Access network office in Research and planning department and finished MBA studies in IEDC, Bled School of management, Slovenia. He is author of several technical publications about broadband and gives occasionally lectures in University of Ljubljana.