Raise the profile of your Apprenticeship Scheme

Having your apprenticeship scheme accredited by the IET demonstrates your offering of a quality assured pathway that helps your apprentices achieve engineering excellence.

Benefits to your company

- Receive a badge of quality from a respected professional body.
- Ensure that your apprentices gain the experiences they need to be successful.
- Align your apprenticeship to internationally recognised standards.
- Help with retaining skilled apprentices.
- Benchmarks the quality of your scheme.

Your costs

- There is no charge for scheme accreditation.
- All we require is that your apprentices become Apprentice Members of the IET*.

Benefits to your apprentices

- Access to a range of resources to stay up to date.
- Personal and professional support including advice when applying for professional registration.
- Opportunities to engage with other IET members.
- Support with career development.
- Some IET Awards and Bursaries are only open to apprentices on IET accredited schemes.
